

esgemo Lubricant Technology is New Distributor Representing LE in Germany, Austria, Switzerland

WICHITA, Kan. (Feb. 10, 2022) – Lubrication Engineers is happy to introduce esgemo Lubricant Technology as its new authorized distributor supplying LE products and services throughout the DACH region of Germany, Austria and Switzerland.

esgemo is adding to its existing portfolio of metalworking fluids and cooling lubricants LE's comprehensive line of high-performance lubricants and reliability solutions.

"esgemo becoming an LE distributor in Europe will be a big step in the DACH markets for both companies," said Frank Kraft, managing director at esgemo. "A team of highly specialized lube professionals will integrate a strong brand with an excellent product portfolio. We are proud to take the LE brand and products to the German and Central European markets. LE products will be the perfect fit to the purest metalworking fluids on the highest quality level, produced by esgemo."

Together, Lubrication Engineers and esgemo will be able to meet the machinery and fleet lubricating needs of a wide variety of companies doing business in DACH markets. They will support their customers with solutions that lower their operating costs while reducing environmental impacts.

"LE and esgemo are a great match," said Patrick Wolswijk, LE's business development manager in Europe. "Just like LE, esgemo prides itself on offering its customers targeted solutions to meet their specific needs, which in turn ensures operating efficiency and long-lasting equipment service life."
